

Style Sheet

(For articles to be submitted to the Annals of Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute)

1. Please keep the article length to the limit of words.
2. Fonts:
 - a. You are requested to submit their contributions using A-4 size of paper and Gandhari Unicode fonts.
 - b. For transliteration, it is advisable to follow the established international convention (IAST); see http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/International_Alphabet_of_Sanskrit_Transliteration (but ignore the phonetic transcriptions in square brackets)
 - c. For submissions in Devanāgarī, use Unicode fonts, such as “Sanskrit 2003.”
 - e. In all cases, also submit a PDF version along with a Word Document of your contributions to make sure that your paper can be produced without any problems.
3. Formatting
 - a. Center your title, followed by your name, followed by your affiliation
 - b. For the title, use 14 point, for the rest of the document use 12 point.
 - c. Section headers should be in italics
 - d. Examples and forms or passages cited within the text should likewise be in italics
 - e. For emphasis use SMALL CAPS.
 - f. In general, please keep formatting to a minimum
 - g. Please use footnotes rather than endnotes
4. References
 - a. Give full bibliographical references in a final “References” section, dividing it into “Primary Sources” and “Modern Works.”
 - b. The bibliographical information should give the last name and complete first name of author(s) [where possible; some authors only go by their initials], date of publication, title (using Title Case), the name of journal with the number of volume (or issue and number, if any) and, in the case of a volume, the name of volume, the name(s) of editor(s), name of publisher, place of publication and page numbers. See the following examples.

Primary Sources

Editions without translations:

RT: Rktantram, ed. by Surya Kanta, Meherchand Lachhmandas, Delhi, 1970 (originally published 1933).

TP: Taittirīya Prātiśākhya. Cited from Whitney 1868.

Modern Works

i) Editions with translations, translations, books and monographs:

Whitney, William Dwight. 1868. (ed. and trans.) The Tāittirīya-Prātiçākhyā, with its commentary, the Tribhāshyaratna: Text, translation, and notes. (Journal of the American Oriental Society 9.) New Haven: American Oriental Society.

ii) Articles published in journals:

Bloomfield, M. 1893. "Contributions to the Interpretation of the Veda", JAOS XV: 143-88.

ii) Articles published in a volume, festschrift, etc.:

Witzel, Michael. 1987. "On localisation of Vedic texts and schools (Materials on Vedic sākḥās, 7)." In: India and the Ancient World. History, Trade and Culture before A.D. 650. P.H.L. Eggermont Jubilee Volume, ed. by G. Pollet, Orientalia Lovaniensia Analecta 25, Leuven, 1987: 173-213.

c. References in the text should follow the format Last Name of Author(s) + Date of publication (+ page numbers), as in Witzel 1987: 173 (-213). Please avoid references such as op. cit or ibid.

5. Special Requests

- a. If you are not a native speaker of English, please have your contribution carefully checked for grammar and style, preferably by a native English speaker. As for the spellings, use spellings preferably of U. K. English.
- b. If your contribution is in Sanskrit, make sure that compounds are written solid, without spaces, and that 'all sentences are grammatically correct.'
